Camilleri Cauchi also prepared the new statue of the tenth station of the Cross, carried around in the procession for the first time in 1984. This last replaced that of Salvatore Bruno as the latter was thought to be out of tune with the rest. Both these statues were paid for by benefactors.(letter from Giuseppi Micallef, secretary to the Confraternity, 30-7-1984); (34)Micallef op.cit.p17; (35)J.Bezzina p.20;(36)J.Bezzina p25;J.Bezzina p26;(37);(38) P.P.Castagna Lis Storia ta Malta Bil Gzejjer Tahha p213; (39) Sunday Times of Malta p.12;(40)Times of Malta 26-3-1970; (41) Cassar Pullicino op.cit.p33; (42)Cassar Pullicino op.cit.p34; (43) Micallef op.cit.p3; (44)Micallef p.6, Bezzina p22-23; (45)Bezzina p.15; (46)The banners were made by Mrs Carmen Barbara nee Azzopardi from Rabat;(47)Bezzina p.6;(48)George Scerri,Monografia Storica dell'Antichisssima Arc.del Glorioso S.Giuseppe eretta nella V.Chiesa dei Frati Minori del Rabato della Citta Notabile.1935.
