TARAN'S TEARS
haunting melodies through highland hills
Tarans' tears, lives unfulfilled
The cries of babes, unbaptised souls
Whimpering, pitiful sounds of woe.
Will someone sooth them please?
Hear their tears rustling through the

I cannot gather them in my arms
Or keep them safe from further harm.

They did no wrong, but died too soon
Now forever the babes are doomed
To wander highland hills unknown
Poor frightened children, all alone.

Where is the Christ who loves us all?
Why doesn't he answer the tarans*

Listen now to a mother's plea
And from their torment set them free!
